To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to you regarding Dave Nicponski's application for the Applied Category Theory 2019 Sci engineer during his tenure at SeamlessDocs, in that time he introduced the organization to many funct strong background in the subject. Before that point no one in the organization knew what a Monad was a tool could be.

Dave particularly excelled at grounding theoretical concepts in practical and necessary applications for functional programming, and provided resources for us to further our understanding of the field. While he has dedicated a large amount of time for independent study in the field of Category Theory, making his understanding and carrying those teachings into the industry.
