

DATA MANAGEMENT PLAN

APPLIED CATEGORY THEORY 2019

JOHN C. BAEZ

The main creative output of the work to take place under this grant will be articles summarizing research papers to be published online at the n -Category Café, videos of lectures from the workshop made available at Oxford Quantum Videos and at the conference website, and also journal publications. All journal publications will be placed on the the arXiv.

Other outputs include a more robust applied category theory community. Specifics include the forging of channels of communication between junior and senior researchers as well as between researchers in previously distinct fields.

There are no anticipated primary data, samples, physical collections, or other supporting materials to be created or gathered in the course of work under this grant.

No development of software is expected to occur under this grant.
